Bankura Sammilani College was established on 1st Sept' 1948 by the Bankura Sammilani Trust, a registered Social service organization, with an altruistic mission of propagating academic enlightenment among the people of Bankura and neighbouring districts. Initially the college was affiliated to Calcutta University, however, subsequently switched over to Burdwan University in the year 1962 and, at present, Bankura University from 01.01.2017

In an existential sense, Geography is destiny. Geographically located in a backward area which has witnessed the invasion of unassailable poverty and impregnable social bazarads, the institution, with an unflinching grit and unwavering determination, has successfully walked over the rough terrains of financial constraints and infrastructural impediment to develop to a full grown co educational institution with Arts, Science, Commerce streams. Under the management of a statutory Governing Body, democratically constituted as per guidelines of the Government of West Bengal, the institution has left no stone unturned, to maintain the pace of development which has been creditably assessed and accredited twice by the NAAC, with the completion of the 2nd cycle in the year 2016.

This institution earnestly believes that no dream is distant. So, to cater to the need of the hour, it has developed to a multi faculty co-education institution to accommodate around three thousand students in Arts, Science and Commerce stream. The halcyon academic atmosphere of the college has been deeply cemented with throbbing and vibrant relationship among all the stakeholders of the institution including the teachers, the non-teaching staff members, the administrators of the institution, the Alumni and also the local people. The emotional rapport and the academic bridge between all the people concerned has helped the institution to reach the acme of academic excellence and to achieve glorious laurels in different fields. The performance of the NCC and NSS is highly remarkable as the candidates from this two Departments have participated in the State, National and International platforms. Some of the candidates have participated in the Republic Day Parade in Delhi and also in the BRICS Summit held in Russia.

The institution feels proud to announce that the Post Graduate courses in English have already been introduced from the current academic session (2018-19) and the Post Graduate courses in Chemistry are going to be introduced in the academic session' 2019-2020.

Having considered the need of the hour to make everything transparent and honest, the institution has become completely techsavvy while using e-governance, e-journals, e-administrations and online admission of the students in different streams. This e-governance has been profusely applauded by the stakeholders from their own perspectives. This institution has been struggling hard to cope up with the demand of students to make the education employable and viable, thus helping it to reach the pinnacle of academic excellence and social benevolence.

75% Class attendance is must in every semester for getting allowed for the each end semester Examination.
